The Republican Wing of the Radical Party Shows its Claws to the President--Miscellaneous Gossip -Affairs on Rio Grande--Louisiana Nominations.

WASHINGTON, October 27.—The Republican, in an article on the duty of the Senate, among other bitter things, says: "We should regard it as a palpable dereliction of duty on their part if they should yield their approval to a proscriptive line of policy that removes capable and honest Republicans from office and places in their stead the enemies of Republicanism or Republicans who are not their peers in any regard." In a separate paragraph the same paper says: "The fact has leaked out that Ruzzimsons, the Democrat who has been appointed Marshal of Georgia, is a nephew of Wade Hampton, and that his appointment was asked by the South Carolina Governor. Perhaps Mr. Hampton will be called upon to suggest a name for the English mission."

These extracts are telegraphed as indications of the feeling which animates the wing of the Radical party of which the Republican is the organ.

WASHINGTON, October 27,—There is claimed to be a majority in the Senate in favor of restoring the dollar de mon pere.

The Railway, postoffice officials and route agents are required to dress in blue and have brass buttons.

The judiciary committee heard Jay Gould to-day on the Pacific Railroads. The committee has not yet considered Harlan's nomination to the Supreme bench.

Sir Edward Thornton returns to Washington as the British Minister.

General Howard is reported to have said that he has much to grieve him, and that the telegraph reporters have lied. Tears glistened in the General's eyes.

The Secretary of State has had advices from special agents on the Rio Grande border of sufficient importance to render a conference between Mr. Evarts and the President necessary this afternoon.

It is stated that all the Louisiana nominations except King's will go to the Senate on Monday.

FOREIGN NEWS.

FRANCE.

Trouble Brewing for McMahon --Probable Future Crystallization of Parties.

LONDON, October 27.—A Paris correspondent of the Times telegraphs that he believes that President McMahon has fallen under the influence of those who are determined to resist the will of the nation, but the Cabinet is divided about how far such resistance ought to be carried. The Duke de Broglie, President of the Council and Minister of Justice, Duke Deazer, Minister of Foreign Affairs, General Borthant, Minister of War, and Viscount de Meaux, Minister of Agriculture, might go as far as a second dissolution of the Chamber of Deputies, but if the Senate refused this they would resign. There are others dream of establishing a dictatorship on the ruins of the constitution. The correspondent does not believe that President McMahon will follow them that far. Well informed conservatives think that the majority of the Cabinet would be pleased to have the Senate refuse a second dissolution and thereby afford them the opportunity to bow to the will of the Senate instead of the Chamber of Deputies. The correspondent adds: "If such is really the idea of the Government I think the Senate will be disposed to facilitate their retreat."

[NOTE.—It may be remembered that Gambetta, in his recent speech at the Chateau Shihon, bitterly attacked the Empire and the Bonapartists, but spoke in a very conciliatory tone of the other parties and predicted an eventual alliance between them and the Republicans when present passions had time to cool.]

Parliament Further Prorogued --American Masons Threatened with Prosecution--Earl Derby to the Greeks.

LONDON, October 27.—Parliament has been prorogued to December 19th.

The Daily News says: "The master masons will prosecute the men who accepted passage from America under contract to work, and further rendering themselves liable by actually entering upon work as contracted, if they persist in acting with the strikers.

ATHENS, October 27.—Earl Derby, British Minister of Foreign Affairs, has sent a note to the Greek Government declaring that the British Government never intended to question Greece's liberty of action, and recommending respect for treaty obligations.

Meeting of the National Liberal League.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., October 27.—The National Liberal League ogranized today with election of F. E. Abbot of Boston, president and forty vice-presidents, among them R. G. Ingersoll, G. W. Julian, O. B. Frothingham, Elizur Wright and Robt. Collier. A platform was adopted advocating total separation of church and state, national protection for national citizens and universal education on basis of universal suffrage.

Arrest of Outlaws.

WHITING, ALA., October 27.—Henry Sutton, the father-in-law of Brown, Bowen & McCall, and the chum of John Wesley Harden, were arrested near this place last night by Sheriff Hutchinson of Escambia county, Fla. This about disposes of the gang which has so long bid law defiance hereabouts.

TURCO-RUSSIAN WAR.

Complete Investment of Plevna --Russian Prospects Brightening--Retreat of the Turks and Pursuit of the Russians--Erzeroum Preparing for a Siege.

LONDON, October 27.—The Daily News' Bucharest correspondent represents the investment of Plevna as complete. The Russians appear determined to surround Plevna by a series of works, as the Germans did Paris. The correspondent doubts whether Plevna is provisioned for the winter's siege. The correspondent concludes:

"I must say now that the question of a second campaign is resolutely faced, and the prospect looks more hopeful for the Russians than at any time since Gen. Krudener's defeat in July."

It is reported that the Russians are pursuing Ghazi Mouktar, and have advanced as far as Khorassan and Murkhtar has retreated to Koprikoi, between Khorassan and Hassan Kaleb.

Erzeroum is preparing for siege. The inhabitants are arming and reinforcements are hastening up from Trebizond. Ghazi Moukhtar, however, reports that the Russians have not advanced further than Mellidooz, on the western slope of Soghauli-Dagh, which is more probable than the first statement.

Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, October 27.—Loans decrease 1½ million; specie increase ½ million; legal tenders decrease ¾ million; reserve increase half million.

Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, October 27.—For the South Atlantic and East Gulf States, clear or partly cloudy weather; light and variable winds, mostly from the North; stationary or higher pressure.

Tammany Democrats Nominate Schell.

NEW YORK, October 27.—The Tammany Democrats of the seventh senatorial district have nominated Augustus Schell in opposition to John Morrissey.

—Alfred V. Dockery was nominated Counsul-General to Leeds; and Richard C. Badger to be District Attorney for the Eastern Dist. of N. C., in the President's list of nominations sent to Congress last week.

—We hear that the people of Montgomery county are making a good deal of syrup. Some of them tell us they raised cane of the finest grade on land that is not productive of corn or cotton.—Democrat.

—Gov. Hampton said, and many persons agreed with him, that the Mecklenburg Riflemen, in their plain grey roundabouts, looked more like the old "grey jackets" than any of the "State Guards."

—Messrs. Dun, Barlow & Co's. October circular shows that there is a considerable falling off in the number and amount of mercantile failures during the past quarter, and presages a marked improvement in business.

—Rev. John Hemphill takes charge of the Associate Reformed Church of Charlotte. This denomination is quite strong in Mecklenburg, and comprises many of its first citizens. Rev. Wm. M. Hunter, the former pastor, goes to a church near Atlanta.

—Rev. E. T. Baird, late Secretary of the Southern Publication Committee, who fled to Canada last spring, under charge of embezzlement of the church funds, has returned, stood trial in the civil courts, and been acquitted—the jury not leaving their seats.

—Major T. B. Ferguson, United States Fish Commissioner, received in Baltimore last Friday, 200,000 California salmon eggs, which were at once taken to the hatching house at Druid Hill, in that city. In about six weeks the young fish will be ready for distribution.

—James Gordon Bennett of the Herald has been made to pay Miss Phoebe Robertson ten thousand dollars for allowing a man to print in his "personal" column these words, "Beware of the black mailing crowd at No. 51, 25th St." Miss R. keeps a boarding-house and demanded a retraction which Bennett with pride of purse refused to give. Now, he pays for his mulishness.

—Miss Lizzie Graham, daughter of the late Judge Graham, of Charleston, S. C., had been visiting in Rockingham, N. C., and on her return, carried a number of chickens prepared for cooking. They were cooked, and eaten, whereupon the whole family consisting of Mrs. and Miss Graham, Miss McCall, (of Rockingham,) Mrs. Ford, four sons of Judge Graham, and two colored servants were badly poisoned. Miss G. and one of the servants, died. The others are gradually recovering. How the chickens were poisoned is yet a mystery.

—The evolutionists have acquired a powerful supporter in Prof. J. W. Draper, of New York University, who in a lecture delivered at Springfield, Mass, on Thursday last, before and at the invitation of an association of Unitarian ministers, now in session there, expounded Darwin's theory of evolution, and gave his reasons why it ought to meet with general acceptance. Dr. Draper does not regard Darwin's theory of evolution as tending to promote the doctrine of the materialists. On the contrary he declared in summing up that the adoption of an hypothesis so complete and rounded in all its parts would lead to "nobler views of this great universe of which we form a part; nobler views of the manner in which it has been developed in past ages to its present state; nobler views of the laws by which it is now maintained; nobler expectations as to its future."

—Mr. Thos. L. Martin, a practical farmer of Poplar Tent Township took to the State Fair, a calf aged 1 year and 15 days, that weighed 727 lbs. This shows what can be done in this country by a little care. He certainly will take the premium. Dr. C. Mills, as usual, will be represented by a display of some of the finest cattle known in the country. The farmers in this township have been for a number of years improving their stock of all kinds and before long can boast of the finest breeds known—in fact our county in general has paid great attention to improve stock.—Concord Sun.

SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA.

SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS

Appointment of Committees--Statistical Reports--Address on the Aggressiveness of the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina---Wilmington next Place of Meeting of Synod.

(Condensed from Charlotte Observer, October 26th.)

Synod met in the Second Presbyterian church at 9:15.

Opened with prayer by the moderator, Rev. John Douglass.

An inquiry having been made by Rev. J. R. Wilson, D. D., as to whether there was any method of dealing with members who were habitually absent from the meetings of synod, a committee consisting of Revs. D. E. Jordan, J. R. Wilson and G. D. Parks and two elders was appointed to investigate the matter and to report to synod.

The question of abolishing the custom of calling the roll at the close of the synod was discussed at length and referred to a committee.

The moderator then announced the committees for this meeting, as follows:

On Bills and Overtures—Revs. M. McQueen and T. N. Paxton, and Elder R. W. Allison.

Judicial Committee—Revs. J. R. Wilson, D. D. and Hector McLean, and Elder A. G. Neal.

On the Records of Presbyteries: Orange—Revs. R. B. Anderson and Jas. McQueen, and Elder J. H. Greenlee. Concord—Revs. Walter W. Pharr and A. McMillan, and Elder C. L. Hunter. Fayetteville—Revs. G. D. Parks and J. N. Wharey, and Elder R. Sterling. Wilmington—Revs. F. H. Johnston and W. E. McIlwaine, and Elder Milton McIntosh. Mecklenburg—Revs. Roger Martin and S. M. Smith, and Elder E. B. Stimson.

To Prepare an Address to the Church on State of Religion in the Synod—Revs J. F. Latimer and S. T. Martin, and Elder C. H. Robinson.

On Devotional Exercises—Rev. E. H. Harding and Elders R. I. McDowell and C. Scott.

On the Treasurer's Account—Rev. H. G. Hill and Elder H. C. Hamilton.

On the Minutes of the General Assembly—Revs. L. C. Vass and W. H. Davis, and Elder T. H. Robinson.

On the Report of the Trustees of Synod—Revs. D. E. Jordan and P. P. Winn, and Elder J. W. Reid.

On Leave of Absence—Revs. R. Z. Johnston and J. P. McPherson, and Elder H. A. Gray.

On Statistical Reports—Revs. P. H. Dalton and S. C. Alexander, and Elder John Wolfe.

The statistical reports from each presbytery were then read by the secretary. The reports generally indicated a healthy state of religion in the synod. Sunday schools were well sustained in almost all the churches, and the contributions for benevolent and other purposes were about the same as heretofore. It was quite noticeable that nearly all the presbyteries complained that family worship was not kept up as it should be. Mecklenburg Presbytery made quite a full report; forty-six churches had been heard from. The attendance was good. More money had been collected in the aggregate than in several years before. All the churches were supplied with preaching except a few in the mountains. Quite a number of ladies' missionary societies had been formed, which were doing much good.

The committee on Union Theological Seminary made a full report of its condition financially and otherwise, mentioning among other things that there were sixty-two students there last year; the library embraced over 15,000 volumes; certificates of graduation were issued to eleven young men last year; several valuable donations in the way of scholarships in the institution had been recently made.

Rev. J. Rumple, of the committee appointed to prepare an address on the permanent and relative aggressiveness of the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina, read the following abstract of a lengthy paper on that subject:

The committee on "aggressiveness," having considered the whole subject of the history and progress of the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina, would respectively report that the Presbyterian Church was planted in North Carolina about 1736, in Duplin county, and shortly after this time in New Hanover and Cumberland counties, by Scotch Presbyterians. About the same time, the Scotch Irish Presbyterians settled in the western part of the State. They rapidly increased until at the period of the Revolution they numbered three or four thousand, and constituted about one seventy-fifth of the population of North Carolina.

To-day they number 16,544 communicants, in 214 churches, with 113 ministers. The number of members has been doubled about every thirty five or forty years, and at this time the communicants in the Synod of North Carolina number about one in every seventy of the population.

There has thus been both an absolute and relative increase of the membership in our churches. The ratio of gain is about thirty-three per cent. on the increase of population.

In comparison with other denominations, Presbyterians have increased in an intermediate ratio They have far excelled all other denominations in the State except two.

At the same time, doubtless, we have failed to perform our whole duty. With an educated ministry, our intelligent, wealthy and influential members, we ought to have planted the Presbyterian Church in every corner of the State. Without pausing to particularize the various hindrances to our success, your committee would briefly point out the measures they deem proper for the future growth of Presbyterianism:

1st. The more general employment of evangelists. Let the synod, presbyteries and ministers press this work, enlighten the churches, and strive to secure more liberal contributions to this cause.

2nd. The more frequent efforts of our settled ministers to do missionary work in regions bordering upon their churches.

3rd. An effort to preach more popular sermons, and a greater endeavor to secure immediate results from their labors.

4th. An awakening of our elderdship to a sense of the responsibility resting upon them especially in attending the church courts, and shaping the legislation of the Church.

5th. The more systematic, orderly and punctual administration of our financial affairs under the control of the deacons.

The report was referred to a committee, consisting of Revs. H. G. Hill and E. F. Rockwell and Elder C. L. Hunter.

Rev. J. R. Wilson moved that the custom of calling the roll of the synod at the close of its session be abolished. After some discussion the matter was referred to the committee appointed to take into consideration the advisability of requiring members to render excuses for absence from the sessions of the church courts.

The reports from the presbyteries on "Systematic Beneficence" in the churches, were read and ordered to be printed in the minutes.

The synodical treasurer's reports for the years 1876 and '77 were read, and referred to the committee on the treasurer's account.

Rev. F. H. Johnston, synodical agent of publication, made a full report.

Rev. Jos. R. Wilson, D. D., objected to a statement contained in the report to the effect that Rev. Dr. Baird, secretary of the Board of Publication had been discovered to be a defaulter to the amount of $22,000 and upwards, stating that this was not yet an historical fact. He moved the adoption of the report with the omission of this statement.

Rev. Mr. Johnston explained that he had taken as a basis of his action in this matter the action of Dr. Baird's own presbytery, and had not intended to judge Dr. Baird. He was aware that the matter was to be further investigated by Dr. Baird's synod.

After some further discussion of the subject, it was decided to recommit the report with the understanding that it was again to be presented at the present meeting of synod.

Rev. L. C. Vass, synodical agent of Sunday schools, made a statistical report of the Sunday school work in the synod, showing an improvement in the same, and recommending the adoption of the four resolutions passed by the General Assembly on the subject of Sunday schools, with a slight alteration of the second resolution.

The report was approved and adopted.

It was ordered that one thousand copies of the minutes of synod be published.

The moderator then announced that it was in order to appoint the time and place for holding the next meeting of synod. Elder Robinson, of Wilmington, extended an invitation from the First Presbyterian church of that city. Goldsboro was put in nomination, but the nomination not receiving a second, the vote was taken viva voce, and the invitation of the First church, of Wilmington, was adopted.

On motion, the time of meeting, was fixed for the Wednesday before the last Sabbath in October, 1878.

Rev. D. E. Jordan introduced a resolution to the effect that a publication of the notice of a meeting of presbytery be considered a legal notice, and that the custom of sending a notice to each individual member be abolished. This provoked quite a lengthy discussion, and was finally lost.

There being no further business prepared, the synod adjourned at 1:15 p. m., to meet at 7:30.

EVENING SESSION.

The synod met at 7:30, and was opened with religious services and a sermon by Rev. F. H. Johnston, of Winston.

At the conclusion of the services the moderator called the meeting to order, and the special order for the evening was taken up, to-wit: the report of the agent of sustentation, Rev. H. G. Hill.

The report was quite lengthy and embraced many matters of interest in relation to the salaries paid to ministers in each presbytery, the funds collected for evangelistic work, the number of persons employed in this field, the extent of the labors among the colored people within the bounds of each presbytery, the condition of the invalid fund, &c.

At the conclusion of his statistical report Rev. Mr. Hill introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That synod recommends to all its presbyteries co-operation in its work of sustentation with the General Assembly's committee, to the extent at least of giving some fair proportion of their contributions to these objects to this committee.

On a motion to adopt the resolution Mr. Hill spoke at considerable length, first explaining the report, and then urging the adoption of the resolution on the broad ground of the command of the Bible to the Church to evangelize the world, and also arguing that by asking aid of the churches both for home work and for the general dispensation of the Gospel, an appeal is made to two powerful motives of action.

Rev. P. H. Dalton made an earnest speech in behalf of the evangelistic work generally, stating that if there was any fault in the Presbyterian system, it was in a failure to make a proper effort to build up the weak churches.

The motion to adopt Rev. Mr. Hill's resolution was carried; after which the synod adjourned to meet next morning at 9:30.

THE WESTERN DISTRICT.

Another Open Letter to Gen. Robt. B. Vance.

[Asheville Citizen.]

Below is a second open letter written to Hon. R. B. Vance, by Major Marcus Erwin, on the question of abolishing the Western Judicial District of North Carolina:

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 20th, 1877.

Hon. R. B. Vance, Washington City:

DEAR SIR: I propose in this letter to notice some of the objections to, and to state some of the advantages which will follow from the abolition of the Western Judicial District of this State, which I suggested to you in my communication of the 9th October instant.

An objection strenuously urged is that one Judge and one District Attorney cannot do the business of the whole State of North Carolina which finds its way into the United States Courts. This is not so, as any one familiar with the amount of business transacted in the Eastern and Western Districts of this State, and otherwise competent to form an intelligent opinion must know.

The number and importance of the causes, civil and criminal, heard and determined in any average State Judicial District, in North Carolina is as great, and the Courts in any such District are as many as they are in both the United States Districts in this State; yet the business of the State of North Carolina, and of private litigants in such State District, is successfully and satisfactorily dispatched by one Judge and one prosecuting officer, at salaries far below the compensation of similar United States officials.

The criminal causes in the Eastern District are very few, and while they are much more numerous in the Western District, they consist there mostly of trifling, petty violations of the Internal Revenue laws, in which the facts are few and the proof abundant, and the defendants oftener plead guilty than ask for a jury trial. It would seem that with less capacity for business than is exhibited by many Police Justices in our large cities, such causes might be disposed of by the dozen in a morning session of the Court. For the amount and kind of business on the dockets of the United States Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of North Carolina, and to confirm the foregoing please examine Attorney General Taft's Report of January 8th, 1877, pp 14, 18, 19, 22, and 23.

Another, and the main objection urged against the proposed change, is that an abolition of the Western Judicial District would entail upon parties and witnesses in the West the necessity of attending Courts at a great and inconvenient distance from their homes. This need not be so as in reorganizing the State into one Judical District it could be provided that the present Judge of the Eastern District should hold the Court at the three points at which they are now held in the West. A moderate increase in the salary of the Judge might perhaps be necessary, but such increase of salary would be more than compensated by the abolition of a number of useless offices and a consequent reduction of the public expenditure. It is a matter of indifference to the people who the Judge is, or in what part of the State he lives, so that he be capable, honest and incorruptible.

Some of the advantages of the proposed change are:

That it would afford Congress all opportunity to endorse an important measure of administration, so often announced and so fondly cherished by President Hayes, viz: The abolition of all useless offices and the reduction of the Public Expenditure in every branch of the civil service to the lowest possible point, consistent with the due execution of the laws and the interest of the country. It would also prevent a pleasing and unpartisan spectacle of an entire unity of sentiment and action in the national Legislature and the Executive, in the direction of prompt and early practical reform about which so much has been said and so little done.

By the mild experiment of abolishing their offices, justice would be tempered with mercy to some incapable persons who might, otherwise, suffer from the mortification of harsher measures, or from the doubtful result of too close a scrutiny into their official conduct; and, while some who deserve might escape punishment which they merit, the people would be relieved from further oppression and the public treasury from further plunder.

The sanction of such a just and timely measure by the National Executive would tend to disperse the hostile bands of North Carolina office hunters and office holders. They would fold their tents and silently steal away from the Capitol where they have been so long encamped, and the President could proceed without obstruction from them, in the execution of his wise and philosophic plan of dissolving the Democratic party in North Carolina by destroying the Republican organization in this State. MARCUS ERWIN.

THE EPISCOPAL GENERAL CONVENTION.

Closing Business of the Session--Canon on Marriage and Divorce--the Pastoral Letter.

BOSTON, Oct 24.—In the Episcopal convention to-day messages were received from the House of Bishops informing the House of Deputies of the non-concurrence of the former in reference to the use of the English lectionary until the next General Convention. On motion of Rev. Dr. Seymour, of New York, it was voted to refer the subject to a joint committee of conference. Messages were also received from the House of Bishops concurring in the use of a special table of lessons in the lectionary for Lent; for the continuance of the joint committee on eclesiastics and religious reforms; concurring in the message for the appointment of a joint committee on godly discipline; of the laity notifying the appointment of the bishops of Eastern and Western New York, Central New York, New Hampshire and Western Michigan, in concurrence with message No. 24 of the lower house; on a joint committee to sit during the recess of the convention; concurring in the appointment of a joint committee on holy orders of the ministry; concurring in the appointment of joint committee relative to the time within which candidates may be in the priesthood. Rev. Dr. Chas. R. Hale was authorized to act with the committee on the lectionary during the recess of the convention.

The committe on canons, to whom was referred the question of regulating the communion service in private chapels, reported that legislation was inexpedient. Appended to the report were resolutions recommending that the House of Deputies do not concur in the message from the House of Bishops relative to the report placed on the calendar.

The proposed canon on marriage and divorce, reported by the committee on canons, came up for discussion. The canon as reported is as follows:

Section 1. If any persons be joined together otherwise than as God's Word doth allow then the marriage is not lawful.

Section 2. No minister shall solemnize the marriage of any person who has a divorced husband or wife still living, if such husband or wife has been put away for any cause arising after marriage; but this canon shall not be held to apply to the innocent in a divorce for the cause of adultery, or to parties once divorced seeking to be united again.

Section 3. If any minister of this Church shall have reasonable cause to doubt whether a person desirous of being admitted to the holy baptism or to communion or to confirmation has been married otherwise than as the Word of God and discipline of this Church allow, such minister before receiving such person to these ordinances shall refer the case to the bishop for his godly judgment thereupon; provided, however, that no minister shall in any case refuse to administer the sacrament to a penitent person in extremis. [Later in the day this was amended by substituting for "in extremis" the words "in imminent danger of death."]

Section 4. Questions touching the facts of any case arising under section 2 of the canon shall be referred to the bishop of the diocese or missionary jurisdiction in which the same may occur, or if there be no bishop of such diocese or missionary jurisdiction, then to some bishop to be designated by the standing committee, and the bishop to whom such questions have been referred shall thereupon make inquiry and deliver his judgment in the premises. The canon was taken up section by section for discussion.

After discussion the proposed canon on marriage and divorce was adopted with slight amendments.

The matter of establishing brotherhoods was referred to the next General Convention. The subject of addition to the litany in the prayer book was also referred to the next General Convention.

The committee to consider the repeal of section 1, canon 22, title 1, for shortening the services and giving greater liberty to ministers in the use of prayer in the baptismal service was relieved from the further consideration of the subject.

The conference committee to consider the difference between the two houses on the use of the English lectionary reported that the committee agreed that the House of Bishops should recede from their non-concurrence with the House of Deputies.

A message from the bishops announced non concurrence in regard to the canon on marriage and divorce, because the principles discussed in the upper house pertinent to the matter are not embodied in the canon. A committee of conference on the subject was appointed.

Messages were received from the House of Bishops concurring in the amendments of canon 9 relating to the board of missions; also permitting the use of the English lectionary; also a message announcing the passage of the amendment to canon 4 relating to the dissolution of pastoral connections.

The report from the committee on canons for the adoption of a rubric for shortening the form of services to be used on any and all days except Sunday, fast or feast days, was discussed and finally adopted.

At the evening session the pastoral letter from the House of Bishops to the Church in the United States was read by the Bishop of Kentucky.

THE PASTORAL LETTER.

The pastoral letter, which was read in convention to-night, was copyrighted, and therefore not available for publication. After calling attention to the fact that the convention was greater in number than ever before, it entered upon wholesome admonitions. Clergymen are urged to still greater exertions in the work of the gospel.

The prevalence of fraud was commented on, and the reason was given that patriotic feeling did not prevent men from plundering the government, or manly feeling from robbing their fellow-man. Nothing, it declared, could change this but the full and fearless proclamation of the truth from on high, with all its promises and penalties. The clergy were exhorted to denounce sins specifically and by name and exalt virtues.

The letter spoke particularly of the importance of practical religion, urging in connection therewith the extension of the system of lay preaching, the establishment of workingmen's meetings throughout the country, industrial schools, mothers' meetings, and the churches are warned against raising money for religious purposes by means concerning which there was the slightest suspicion of moral ambiguity.

Parents are urged to train their children in the truths of the Church and especially warned them against sending them to institutions of learning in which they would be subject to the influence of the Romish Church. Children so educated, the letter says, become either negative Protestants or positive Catholics, and such a result was a heavy price to pay for their instruction in music, dancing and painting.

The letter considered the dangers by which the Church and society were threatened because of the violation of sacred obligations by individuals, and assigned as a remedy for the troubles between capital and labor the application of the command "To love your neighbor as yourself."

Attention is called to the wants of mission fields of the Church, and closed with words of encouragement to all engaged in the work of the Church and conferring blessings on all of the Church.

STATE NEWS.

Ice at Old Fort last Wednesday morning.

Agricultural Fair at Elizabeth City, November 13th, 14th and 15th.

The Baptist State Convention will assemble in Durham on the 7th of November.

The Asheville Citizen says: The heaviest frost of the season visited this section Tuesday morning.

Next Friday is the day appointed for the hanging of Hillmon Morgan for the murder of Crudup, at Louisburg.

Piedmont Press: A car load of convicts passed up the road Wednesday. One escaped from the train four miles west of Hickory.

A new post office has been established at Cross Canal on the Dismal Swamp Canal, in Camden county, Burwell Duke Esq., Postmaster.

Reidsville News: The frost last Tuesday morning, was very large and destructive in its effects. Fortunately very nearly all the tobacco had been cut and housed before it fell.

Greenville Express: We learn that the water in Tar River is so low, that the boats cannot go to Tarboro. But two weeks ago, everything in its reach was perfectly immersed.

Statesville American: Gus Powell, who killed another negro at Hickory, when both were attending Cole's circus at this place, has been captured by the sheriff of Buncombe and lodged in jail at Asheville.

Warrenton Gazette: A little four year old son of Mr. Robert Ford fell from a tree last Friday, and in his descent struck the paling around the yard and broke his thigh, the bone being pushed through the flesh and skin.

Greenville Express: N. P. Overton, (white), and Noah Taylor, (colored), the murderers of young Grimes, in Edgecombe county, November 2, 1874, will be hanged in Washington, N. C., November 2, by Sheriff Satchwell.

Franklin Courier: Mr. Henry Arnold, who was acting as ginner in the cotton gin of Mr. B. P. Clifton, at this place, had the misfortune of having his right hand badly torn to pieces while moving some cotton from near the saws, on Thursday of last week.

Wilson Advance: At a row which took place at Maj. Eason's store, near Rocky Mount last Saturday, a young man named John Dickens, joined in the fracas with pistol in hand, which accidently fired off and lodged its contents in his leg, breaking the bone all to shatters.

Statesville American: A diabolical attempt was made to wreck the train on the A., T. & Ohio Railroad, between Statesville and the bridge, on the night Cole's circus went down, by placing cross-ties and fence rails at intervals on the track. Fortunately the obstructions were discovered by Jim Laurence, a colored man and by him removed before the train passed.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina have all cut and housed fine tobacco crops.

The State tax of Florida is to be reduced this year two mills on the dollar, an aggregate reduction of $80,000.

It is now certain that Senator Gordon will be re-elected. Out of 137 counties in Georgia 131 are said to be for him.

A Nashville colored preacher is suing a member of his church for the payment of a subscription to the pastor's salary.

The work of trying the public thieves in South Carolina will begin this week. It is still a question whether Chamberlain will be indicted.

It would be interesting to know how many cotton-gins are burned in the South every year. Nearly every paper from the cotton section records one or more such fires.

Petersburg, Va., has 180 Moffet registers, which show that that city took between September 27 and October 16, 34,354 alcoholic potations—tax, $858.85; malt, 10,754—tax, $54.27.

A Virginia paper says: Let us give credit to Mr. Hayes, for his conduct to the South; but let Mr. Hayes give credit to the Democratic party for their policy which he has adopted.

San Antonio, Texas, has a society of Free Thinkers and a dispatch from there to the Galveston News says a band of fifty Christian Kuklux took a leading Free Thinker of Bell county out the other night, hit him fifty lashes and gave notice if there were any more infidel lectures in that county somebody would hang.

Average Texas item: Gov. Hubbard, at the Belton Fair, said Texas is getting rich at the rate of $100,000,000 per annum. The taxable property of the State is now $350,000,000, against $250,000,000 in 1876. This is progress with a vim. And in 1880 it will be $700,000,000, three millions of people and some twenty-odd members of Congress.

Savannah News Oct. 25: Four Georgia fairs are in full blast to-day, namely: Thomasville, Sandersville, Greensboro and Newnan. This fact shows that "there's life in the old land yet." They are being successfully engineered, and those at Thomasville and Sandersville will vie with, if not surpass, the recent one of the State Agricultural Society at Atlanta.

A meeting of colored people was held in Key West last week, the object of which was to "morally and materially sustain Rev. H. H. Garnet in his philanthropical design of making an appeal to the Government of the United States of America to exert all its influence and intervention toward the Government of Spain, to incline the mind of the latter to decree at once and forever the freedom of three hundred thousand of our brothers who are now suffering under the most horrid servitude in the island of Cuba."

THE WESTERN U.S. JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

We print to-day, from the Asheville Citizen, a recent open letter from Major Marcus Erwin to Gen. Robt. B. Vance, urging that the Western District of the Federal Court for this State be abolished, and explaining such objections as have been urged against it. Yesterday we printed Congressman Waddell's bill looking to this end. Our readers are therefore familiar with its text. The main objection urged against this bill is that it will put persons having business in the United States Court to the trouble of travelling hundreds of miles to this city, or Wilmington, or Newbern, or some other eastern town or city, to appear as witnesses, suitors, lawyers, &c. "That," as well said by the Charlotte Democrat, "would be a great hardship, and should not be permitted by our members of Congress." This objection is explained away by Congressman Waddell, the author of the bill, in a letter to the Democrat, from which we extract the following:

"My bill abolishes the District and the offices now existing, but provides for the sessions of the Court at Greensboro, Statesville and Asheville, and the appointment of the Clerks by the "Judge of the District of North Carolina." So that your people will not have to go any further to attend the Court than now, and will be deprived of no convenience they now enjoy, although they may lose the luxury of being oppressed and outraged as common report says they frequently are."

This objection, then—a most potent one were it founded on fact—is entirely removed. If Waddell's bill passes, the Federal Courts for Western North Carolina would be held at Greensboro, Statesville and Asheville, as now; but with this difference, the Judge would be the Judge now presiding so acceptably over the Eastern District, where there is little trouble, and no complaint worthy of note. Nobody, in the west, we take it would object to swapping Dick for Brooks, Lusk for Badger, and Douglass for Hill—which would be one of the immediate practical results of the bill.

The object of the bill is set forth in one sentence by Mr. Waddell. He says:

"The only motive prompting the measure was a desire to relieve the people of Western North Carolina of what I have been led to believe is a grievous burden and affliction."

If the bill will have this effect—if it will lead to the appointment of good Revenue officers and relieve the people of illegal annoyances; if it is the only direct, practical way of ridding the State of Dick and Douglass, and their understrappers, then we favor the bill. If, on the contrary, the abolition of the Western District would in any way increase the trouble and expense of litigation to the Western people, or fail to relieve them of oppression and outrage, then we are opposed to it.

The proper arbiters of this bill are the people of Western North Carolina, embraced within the limits of Dick's territorial jurisdiction. Let them speak out in the matter, through their press and public men. The Charlotte Democrat has taken a stand against the abolition; the Statesville Landmark is pointedly in favor of it, as we gather from its last number; the Asheville Citizen, seems inclined to support Waddell's bill; and the Greensboro Patriot takes ground against it. How is it with the other papers in the District? In connection with the sentiment of the West on the subject, it would be a matter of public interest and value to know the opinions in this matter of Congressmen Vance, Robbins, Steele and Scales—whose constituents are in whole or in part subject to Dick and Douglass. Do they support Mr. Waddell in his movement for relief? They are better acquainted with the Western people, perhaps, than Hon. A. M. Waddell, and the public would like to be acquainted with their views on this very important subject. Relief should be had for the west in respect of the administration of the Federal law; but, whether this relief should come in the shape of the removal of Dick and Douglass, and the appointment of good and capable men in their places; or, in the shape of the abolition of the Western District, and the consolidation of the entire Federal jurisdiction of North Carolina under Judge Brooks, is the question. Let us hear from the West.

WHAT THE PEOPLE OF THE SOUTH WANT.

General Joseph E. Johnston, while visiting New York City some days since, in reply to several inquiries, said that the people of the Southern States, so far as he had been able to judge from his travels among them, were perfectly satisfied with the President's policy, that they only demanded the indorsement of the spirit, as well as the letter of the constitution and laws.

He regards the commercial condition of the South as being better than it was before the war, and asserts that the Southern people are anxious for the immigration of capitalists and other well disposed people from the North, who will find there a fertile soil, genial climate, available streams, water for manufacturing purposes, and lands and houses at prices as low, if not lower than can be found in any other section of the country. The only Northern people who find hostility manifested toward them in the South, are those who are naturally busy-bodies and stirrers up of strife. All others are cordially welcomed.

THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA.

The synod of the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina assembled in the Second Presbyterian Church of Charlotte, on Wednesday. The Charlotte Observer says of it:

An abler, more dignified, or more distinguished body of men, representing a finer constituency, perhaps never assembled in Charlotte. That this body should meet here is, as the North Carolina Presbyterian recently remarked, eminently appropriate, for if Presbyterianism is peculiar to any one community in North Carolina more than to another, it is so to Charlotte and to Mecklenburg county. This is the nursery of that Calvinism which was landed in America by the Pilgrim Fathers, and cherishing the principles which inspired the founders of this faith, and those who came after them, the cause of civil and religious liberty has ever found upon this soil its warmest defenders.

The history of Presbyterianism in North Carolina is interesting and instructive. Introduced here about 1835 by a handful of men who had fled from persecution in the North of Ireland, the doctrines of the church and the forms of worship instantly took a firm foothold. The first church ever erected in North Carolina was that built at Hereford, Alamance county, by a little Presbyterian band, and the second was that at Sugar Creek, in Mecklenburg county, which was the work of men of the same religious belief. Before and during the war of the Revolution, the stern and sturdy Covenanters exercised the greatest influence in this section, shaping public policy as far as possible, and controlling popular sentiment on all questions of public interest. Firm in their convictions, ready and anxious to defend their faith even at the cannon's mouth, honest, conscientious and with a love of liberty which was not second to love of life—such were the Presbyterian characteristics in the earlier times, and such they are to this day.

The progress of the church, which has not been as rapid as has been made by some others, has, nevertheless, been steady, and its advances well maintained. In strength of numbers it is now the third in North Carolina, following the Baptist and Methodist. There are to-day 16,544 communicants of the Presbyterian Church, 113 ministers and 224 churches. In intelligence and character the Presbyterians rank second to no denomination, and wherever they are found in superior numbers are found thrift, piety and good local government. The ministry embraces men who are justly distinguished in their holy calling—men who would occupy commanding positions in any of the learned professions.

JUDGE KERR, in his charge to the Grand Jury at Lincolnton, spoke of "the inadequacy of the North Carolina Penitentiary as a punishment of criminals, and suggested that 40 stripes save one would be a much more effectual punishment and diminish crime"—as we learn from the Charlotte Democrat. We concur in this view. We are no believer in the Penitentiary system. It is filling the land with criminals; it is making highwaymen and murderers of thieves; and taxes the State too heavily for its support. Ten thousand dollars a month goes to support the penitentiary. That would buy enough hickory switches to enforce justice a thousand years. The Penitentiary is not reformatory: it hardens the criminal. The rod is reformatory: there are few offenders a good whipping would not improve. Judge Kerr's views are in consonance, we doubt not, with the views of the best citizens of the State. The abolition of the lash for criminals was due to false motives of philanthropy, imported from the North.

WORK on the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad is progressing finely. Only three miles remain ungraded to complete the grading of the road to Hendersonville.

THE Richmond Fair begins on Tuesday. A large and successful exhibition is anticipated.

An Exciting Week at Jackson Court.

(From the Asheville Citizen.)

From our correspondent, 'A. J.' we glean the following items from Jackson Court, held at Webster last week:

No business of much importance transpired in Court this week. Our people are pleased with Judge Furches. We had quite an exciting time on Thursday, caused by a show which consisted of two monkeys, two parrots, one educated hog, one anaconda, the great balloon ascension, and a big crowd of humbugs. During the exhibition Mr. Manson Wilson made a mis step, and fell from the top step of the Court house to the ground, a distance of about twelve feet; he fell on his back and shoulders, which came very near killing him. He received immediate attention from friends, who took him up and carried him to his brother's house, a distance of one hundred yards. Mr. Wilson is badly injured and is now in a very precarious condition.

Soon after a loud quarrel was heard inside of the canvass, which resulted in a fight between W. P. Allman (late Revenuer) and John Davis. Allman struck Davis across the head with a pistol, inflicting a serious wound, after which Sheriff Brendle was sent for, and being careful to have plenty of men and pistols to make the proper arrests, was too late reaching the scene of action. The excitement was so high everybody left the Courthouse except the judge and one or two of the bar, consequently the court was adjourned for the day.

The docket was cleared Saturday by 12 o'clock and court adjourned. After which we had another serious accident. D. J. Candler went up stairs in Mr. Allman's house, and starting down he stumbled at the top of the stairs and fell to the lower floor, sustaining severe injuries. He did not speak in three hours, and has not spoken but a few words since. Dr. Moses Allen is giving him careful attention and thinks he may recover.

Monetary matters are quite close, and but few sales are being made of goods. The report of crops are generally good. The area of land sown in wheat will be greater than last year. Our farmers are looking forward to small grain crop with more interest than usual. The most crop this fall will be quite limited, the hog cholera having destroyed large numbers of the hogs in this section.

HILLEL AND SADI.

BY MARCELLUS V. LANIER, OF N. C.

In Olives' garden Hillel, strolling, mused,
With Sadi, his disciple, by his side—
A space he waited Wisdom's counsels used,
Young learning steps in Wisdom's ways to guide.

Said Sadi: "Yonder in the moonlight, see
A man who seems some heavy grief to bear;
Why sits he thus alone—who can he be—
Amidst those mouldering tombs; what doth he there?"

"'Tis Zadoe," Hillel answered; "'neath the mound
Where low he sits his only child doth sleep.
To wake no more until Jehovah's trump shall sound;
He thither comes, at silent eve, to weep."

But said the youth: "Him just and wise they call,
Why can he then his sorrow not restrain?"
Quoth Hillel: "Wisdom yields to Nature's thrall;
Shall he, though wise, not therefore feel the pain?"

"What profit, then," said Sadi, "hath the wise—
What e'er mfort hath he that the fool hath not;
Since he, too, feels the pang of sev'rance ties,
And sighs and tears are but the common lot?"

"True," said his teacher, "sorrow comes to all,
And no exemption to the wise is given;
But though his tears to earth may bitter fall,
Behold! his look is upward turned to Heaven!"

—(The South Atlantic.

NEWS NOTES.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, writing from Danzig, says that it is difficult to take up a German paper without finding in it some slur upon America.

M. Victor Hugo ought to be a happy author. 20,000 copies of the two-franc edition of his new book have just been sold, in Paris, in a single day.

Senator Morton's recovery is seriously doubted, and it is admitted that he constantly suffers great pain, and seldom sleeps without the aid of powerful opiates.

A French gunboat from Tahiti brings news of the death of Queen Pomare, of the Society Islands, on September 17, of heart disease. Her eldest son, Ariaane, has been proclaimed King.

A petition against the repeal of the bankrupt law and for amendments to it has been circulated in New York for a few days past, and has received a great many signers from the larger merchants and bankers.

Associate Justice Harlan is not the first Kentuckian appointed on the Supreme Bench. President Jefferson appointed Thomas Todd, and in 1826, after his death, Robert Trimble was given the succession.

The Philadelphia Record says that the exhibitors at the permanent exhibition are despondent, have all lost money, and a large number of them have expressed an intention of removing their exhibits before the commencement of the winter.

Three daughters of a Kentuckian determined to be married the other day, and their father refusing to approve their resolve, they all eloped with the men of their choice the same night. Only in Kentucky do they do such things in this wholesale way.

The Boston Transcript says that a tradesman in that city refuses to accept an order for payment of his bill against the city, on the ground that it is for an amount larger than his just claim against the city. And it wants to know who was to profit by the difference.

During the last ten years nearly 1,000,000 of acres in Great Britain formerly under grain crops have been converted into pasture, meat having become so paying an article to raise; but in the last board of trade report it is remarked that this conversion of arable land into pasture has received a check as a result of the large importation of American meat.

Lieutenant Flipper, the colored graduate at West Point, has been made very indignant by a report that he was to join the Liberian exodus, and become Commander-in-Chief of the Liberian Army. He says that there is no truth in this, and that he is "not at all disposed to flee from one shadow to grasp at another—from the supposed error of Hayes's Southern policy to the prospective glory of commanding Liberia's army."

The Romans have a superstition that Cardinals always die in threes, even as the people on the Mississippi always believe that one fatal steamboat accident will inevitably be followed, in a few days, by two others. The death of Cardinal Capalti, following close upon those of Cardinals Patrizi and Riario-Sforza, will go a long way to confirm the belief, especially as it is not so long since Antonelli died, to be followed to the grave by De Angelis and Bizarri.

The Pope's annual income of $646,000, allowed by the Italian Parliament in the "Bill of Guaranties," has, since December, 1870, been offered to him annually in a single bill, engraved especially for the purpose, and as regularly it has been declined. The bills were then placed on deposit in the Bank of Italy, to the Pope's order, and have been covered into the treasury if five years elapsed without their withdrawal. The first two have thus returned to the Italian treasury, but whenever the Pope dies his heirs will find $3,225,000 awaiting them.

The Mexican War Soldiers.

(Charlotte Democrat.)

We hope the present Congress will do an act of justice that should have been done long ago—grant pensions to soldiers engaged in the Mexican war. They are as much entitled as those of 1812, and it is gross injustice not to grant them the same pay accorded to other pensioners.

There are now only about seventy persons in North Carolina who served in the Mexican war, and some of them served in a Virginia Regiment. The North Carolina Regiment was composed of about 1,000 men, rank and file, commanded by Col. Paine, and of that number there are probably not more than fifty living.

Most of the cobunteers in the Mexican war were from the Southern States, and Southern members of Congress should press their claims, especially as Congress has been so abundantly liberal to Northern soldiers.

The following is the programme of the President's reception at Richmond; The President will arrive there at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of October 31, and will be quartered at the Exchange Hotel. He will be present on the Fair-grounds on Wednesday and again Thursday morning. On Wednesday Governor Kemper will deliver the address of welcome on behalf of the State at the Fair grounds, and Mr. Hayes is expected to reply at length. Wednesday evening the State reception will take place at the Governor's Mansion, to be followed by a grand State dinner. Mr. Hayes will return by a special train at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The Godwin
AGRICULTURAL ENGINE
AND SAFETY BOILER WAS AWARDED THE

First Premium at Roanoke & Tar River Agricultural society, 1875. The Gold Medal, over all other competitors, at the North Carolina State Fair, in 1876.

It is the most perfect and economical in use. The Boiler is of new design, being vertical yet all the heating surface is entirely covered with water, thus preventing the fire from destroying the tubes as is the case, in a few years, in all upright tubular boilers in which the fire passes through the tubes above the water line, soon destroying the exposed end of the tubes causing them to leak.

Milton Nobles' "Phœnix."

Mr. Nobles, supported by an excellent troupe, will present the American drama of the "PHOENIX" for the first time on the Raleigh boards, at Tucker Hall on Thursday night next. From various Southern papers we learn that the play is most admirably presented, the situations effective, and that everywhere this troupe is greeted by large and appreciative audiences. The play represents the various distinctive phases of true American life, is full of dramatic interest throughout, and sparkles with wit, humor and originality. We copy the following notice of the play from the Norfolk Landmark:

A very fine audience was present at the Opera House last night to witness Mr. Milton Nobles' sensational American drama of "The Phœnix," and all were well repaid for their trouble and expense, for the rendition was excellent, and called forth frequent and enthusiastic applause

Mr. Nobles, who appeared in the prologue as "Carroll Gravos," a New York Bohemian, and in the play as "Jim Bludso, the Pœnix," that sprang from the ashes of Carroll Graves, is a superior character actor. He won great applause throughout the play, and was called before the curtain at the end of the first act. Mr. Alonzo Schwartz, as "Moses Solomons," could not have been excelled in that character. He brought down the house at every appearance. Miss Fanny Lewis Burt as Sadie, the flower girl, afterwards Effie Elmore, the actress, displayed some fine acting and was warmly applauded. She possesses a voice of wonderful compass, and it should be carefully cultivated. She sang "Harmony Bells," which was encored. Mr. Spencer Pritchard as "Tom Fergus" and Mr. Geo. J. Maddox as "Leslie Blackburn" were most excellent in their respective parts. The other characters were well sustained.

The fire scene which concluded the prologue was startlingly real.

Mr. Nobles and his company will appear in Petersburg to-night, and afterwards in Lynchburg and Danville. We commend them to the citizens of our sister cities and assure all that they should not miss seeing "The Phœnix."

Congratulatory Order.

The following order was issued yesterday:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS,
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Raleigh, Oct. 27th, 1877.

GENERAL ORDER No. 16.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief desires to express his thanks and sincere gratification to the Companies of the North Carolina State Guard who responded to his call by appearing in review during the recent State Fair. Their neat uniforms, the excellent condition of their arms and equipments, their splendid drill and discipline, and their good behaviour at a time so difficult to preserve order, are above all praise. Such an exhibition, the Commander-in-Chief believes, can not fail to revive a proper military spirit among the young men of the State, and induce the early formation and equipment of a sufficient number of the Guard to make every citizen feel that the Executive will be able to preserve order and enforce the laws without the necessity of calling for aid elsewhere. It is pleasant to state also that the vast concourse of North Carolinians who witnessed the display fully shared in the gratification of the Commander-in-chief.

Thanks and congratulation are also hereby extended to Col. Bingham's splendid corps of well drilled, and well behaved cadets who contributed so much to the interest of the occasion.

The personal courtesies extended to the Commander-in-chief by all, individually and as organizations, were most gratefully appreciated and are kindly remembered.

The thanks of the Commander in-Chief, as well as those of the Guard, are also due to the several Railroad Companies who furnished gratuitous transportation for the troops and their baggage.

By order of the Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

JOHNSTONE JONES,
Adjutant General.

That Nuisance Again.

We are again and again urged to protest, in the name of the quiet citizens of Raleigh, and especially in behalf of sick women and children, against the nightly practice of blowing bugles by the hack and omnibus drivers at dead hours of night, as they go to and return from the depot. A gentleman informed us yesterday, that on Friday night his sick child was very nearly thrown into spasms by the sudden, sharp sound of a bugle in front of his dwelling. Sick ladies, to say nothing of sick men, are constantly being annoyed by this practice. Now, if this thing is a necessity, let it be understood and let it go on unchecked; if not it ought to be stopped. We know an invalid lady who has suffered greatly on account of this nuisance, and at whose request we have before called attention to it, and we do so again at her request and that of others, hoping another allusion to the subject may not be necessary.

An Indian in the Penitentiary.

The first representative of the aboriginal red man admitted to the State ison, was brought down by Sheriff vard, from Graham county, and de- ed to the authorities, yesterday. ame is Esiah Colonaheska, and ntenced to three years at hard y larceny, at the Fall term of Superior Court. Colonaheska, his choice, would rather be y years, if they would allow the sunshine, than to stand at hard labor.

Sale of City Property.

R. H. Battle, Jr. Esq., and Dr. James McKee, administrators of the estate of the late Dr. Wm. H. McKee, sold, on yesterday, at public auction, the lot belonging to the estate, on the corner of Wilmington and Martin streets, containing one acre, (less a lot 60 feet front on Martin street, sold some time since to W. C. McMakin, Esq.,) at the following prices:

1. The corner lot fronting 26½ feet on Wilmington street, running 120 feet on Martin, bought by Messrs. Parker and Avera for $5,600.

2. Lot adjoining fronting on Wilmington street, same size as the first, bought by Messrs. Barbee & Latta for $3105.

3. Lot adjoining the last, same size, bought by Miss Eliza McKee for $2,...0.

4. Lot next to this, same size, bought by Dr. James McKee for $1,805.

5 and 6. Two lots each same size of the others, bought by Col. Paul Faison for $1,165 each.

7 and 8. Next two lots, same size each, bought by W. C. Stronach for $1,05[illegible] each.

9. Lot fronting on Martin street, 35 feet, running back 212 feet, bought by W. C. Stronach for $1,800.

The old houses on the lot were sold separately, and brought an aggregate of $576.

The above are considered pretty good prices, yet none of the purchasers would be willing to relinquish their bargains without considerable advance on the price they paid. Most of the purchasers intend, we understand, to improve their lots by building on them at an early day. Many, if not all these buildings, will be business houses, which will greatly enhance the value of other property in that section of the city.

What North Carolina is Worth.

Mr. A. J. Partin, the excellent and courteous Clerk in the Auditor's office, has just finished up his "recapitulation" of tax returns for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1876, from which we get the following values of real and personal property in the State for that year:

| | |
|---|---|
| Value of land..... | $ 74,221,398.00 |
| " town property.. | 17,458,520.00 |
| " horses, mules, cattle, &c..... | 16,130,858.00 |
| Value of farming utensils, money on hand, or on deposit, credits, &c..... | 40,753,781.00 |
| Total..... | $148,564,557.00 |

We give below the totals of taxable property in the State for the years 1872, '73, '74 and '75, by which may be seen the fluctuations in those years, which, no doubt, are owing more to vagaries of assessors than to changes in value:

In 1872—$124,821,456.00
1873— 143,723,813.00
1874— 139,953,361.00
1875— 152,546,023.00

TAXABLE POLLS.

1875, White 99,417. Colored 50,755.
1876, " 103,307. " 52,599.

The aggregate of the value of real and personal property of the State, for 1877, has not yet been completed.

A Complicated Case.

ARLINGTON, GA., Jan. 9, 1876.

DR. PIERCE:

Dear Sir: I was sick for six years, and for two years could scarcely walk about the house. My breath was short and I suffered from pain in my breast and stomach all the time; also from palpitation and an internal fever, or burning sensation, and experienced frequent smothering or choking sensations. I also suffered from pain low down across my bowels and in my back, and was much reduced in flesh. I now feel like a different person, my breath is so good. I have used seven bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription, and feel that I am well.

Very respectfully,
